The University of Nairobi and
New York University invite you to a

Workshop on Digital Sovereignty

*Mapping AI Power
Dynamics in Kenya*

Workshop Overview

This collaborative studio examines the intersection of technological innovation and power dynamics in Kenya's emerging AI ecosystem. As Africa's "Silicon Savannah" continues to grow, we'll explore critical questions about who controls, benefits from, and governs these technologies.

Bringing together experts from government, academia, industry, and civil society, this interactive workshop combines panel discussions with collaborative mapping activities to develop recommendations for strengthening local agency and data sovereignty.
